Learn from experts, network with peers and watch great hockey

With ongoing market volatility, agility, frequent adjustments and accurate reporting are even more critical. In order to understand the past and plan for the future, organizations must manage a challenging combination of Business Intelligence and Planning processes. Add to that the impact of GAAP to IFRS conversion and dual reporting requirements in 2010, and you can quickly see how Canadian finance departments are being forced to deal with multiple, concurrent challenges.

Join Clarity Systems and Microsoft to learn from leaders in the industry about transforming your budgeting and reporting processes to address those challenges effectively. Clarity solutions combined with the robust Microsoft-based platform for business can help you:

- Understand the past while developing more timely and accurate long range plans, annual budgets and mid-year forecasts.
- Manage increased demands on statutory reporting processes to achieve compliance.

▶ Event Speakers

- Mark Nashman, President, Clarity Systems — how Clarity leverages Microsoft-based technology to deliver financial budgeting, planning, forecasting and consolidations solutions to the Office of Finance while automating the external reporting process.
- Bruno Aziza, Worldwide Lead Strategist at Microsoft — how you can achieve your performance management objectives by creating and managing a "Culture of Performance."

The event will conclude with a roundtable Q&A session, where you can elicit feedback from the experts about your unique budgeting and external reporting challenges.

After the presentation and Q&A, we invite you to stay for dinner and a hockey game as the Canucks take on the Thrashers.
